Richard Prince
A Book Guy
Curated by Christophe Daviet-Thery
27.01 - 31.03.2024

Richard Prince, a key member of the Pictures Generation, is arguably best known for his significant contribution to the development of the notion of appropriation as an artistic strategy perhaps nowhere best illustrated than in his Cowboys series of works, or “re-photographs” which he started producing in 1981.

The early eighties however also mark the start of Prince’s adventures into the world of books: from self-publishing short fiction to pictures dominated artist’s books featuring images of his work remixed with texts and other artists’ works and studio shots, books have come to occupy a central place within Prince's practice who is an avid book collector himself.

The exhibition “Richard Prince, A Book Guy” curated by Christophe Daviet-Thery and organised by Marc Jancou Contemporary brings together an impressive selection of titles both by and on Richard Prince, including artist’s books, out-of-print catalogues and rare monographs.

Marc Jancou Contemporary is making available three lists of titles available to order, separately or as part of bundles.
